

A Murderous Scheme Frustrated.—Mr. Robert H. Phillips, in a letter from Nashville, gives an account of a frustrated robbery and probable murder on the steamer Mercury, on her recent trip to Louisville to that city. At Smithland the boat took on two individuals who gave their names as Watson and Fletcher, and claimed to be secret detectives of Nashville, having in charge a soldier named C. H. Montgomery, arrested for desertion. There was also on board the boat a young man named George Wilkes, a Government aid from the Louisville Commandery. It was observed that the soldier Montgomery was anxious to communicate with Wilkes, but was so closely watched by the detectives that for some time he was unable to accomplish his wish, but finally he was enabled to state that the detectives had made overtures to him to rob a passenger who had $4,000 with him and slept in room No. 9. They gave him a heavy slug-shot, and told him if the man walked to the shore; they would pursue him, and when in the woods they could share the plunder, while they would not report him to Nashville. This was arranged to take place when the boat lay over for the night at Bell's Mill, twenty miles below Nashville. After a consultation with Mr. Wilkes and Capt. McElroy, it was decided that all night and watch the actions of the soldiers. Between one and two o'clock those worthless got up, took seats by the stove, and asked lots of questions as to how long the Captain was going to sleep and when the mate's watch commenced. Upon being told that the Captain had given orders to allow no one to leave the boat that night and that the stage plank had been taken in, they attempted much disputation and referred to their heads. The next morning the soldiers stated that they had agreed to wait till they arrived at Nashville, where they would pursue their intended victim to go to the theatre and lead him by some lonely place where the soldier could lie in wait. Upon reaching Nashville, Capt. McElroy, like a good Pilot White, went to the Provost Marshal, and, upon his statement of facts, the detectives were brought up for examination before him, and subsequently held over for trial.

We are authorized to state that the gaming-houses will not be permitted to re-open in the city, and all like establishments throughout the State, will be promptly closed by the military authorities. —
OPERATIONS.—Manager Fulmer is determined that the best seats for hearing the opera shall be equally comfortable with those in the parquette circle. The balcony boxes are preferable to the lower tier, because the sounds are more mellowed by the greater height. The boxes are well-arranged accommodations for all next week. The Royal Box, the brilliant parterre of overhanging gardens. One place is about as good as another, after all, to hear an opera in a house of the size of our theatre, and the enthusiast will not care to be prominently seen if he or she can drink in the flood of melody which will gush from the voices of Lorini, Castri, Strakosch, Formes, Steffan, Tamero, Barilli, Morelli, and the rest of the troupe of l'Impresario Grau.

COURTS MARTIAL.—No business was transacted in Colonel Vaughan's court yesterday. The Judge Advocate was not furnished with a case in time to present for trial. To-day, Hiram Brumelle, company C, 1st Kentucky artillery, will be arraigned on the charge of larceny. The specification defines that Brumelle is accused of stealing an amount of money from his pay roll, and his regimental pay book, belonging to a farmer in the central portion of Kentucky, where the battery has been stationed.

In Colonel Johnson's court, Thos. S. Scoll, company K, 20th Kentucky volunteers, and Milton G. Cotton, company I, 5th Invalid corps, were yesterday separately arraigned and tried on the charge of desertion. Samuel Chapman, 40th company, 23rd battalion, Invalid corps, will have an investigation to-day.

Bancks's News.—Not much business was transacted at the barracks yesterday. The only men received were one hundred and fifty convalescents from various points. Jeremiah Redford and Henry Holmes, 12th Indiana cavalry, were arrested in Jeffersonville, charged with desertion. They were transferred to this side of the river and confined in the Military Prison. During the day seventy-five convalescents were sent to Nashville, and twenty-five to Cairo. Forty deserters were forwarded to Nashville, three to Washington, and one to Baltimore. Since the barracks has been repaired, and new bunks constructed throughout, the building presents a neat and comfortable appearance.

JOHN M. STOKES & SON.—A m's successful and long-continued for the cure of lameness, and the removal of the disease, if carefully prepared, with full directions, and sent by mail, post-paid, for any part of the Union, for $1.50 per package, or four packages for $5. RAYMOND & CO., 514 Main street, Louisville, Ky.

ARMY GOODS.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday. At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper. On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

HIGH-PRICED TOBACCO.—Two bags of Clarksville tobacco were sold yesterday, by Messrs. Spratt & Co., at the very handsome prices of $69 and $30 per hundred pounds. They were grown by and belong to W. H. Rudolph, of Montgomery county, Tennessee, and purchased by Mr. David Musselman, and T. J. Edmunds of this city.

REMEDY FOR PILES.—It is a blessing to the suffering to know that we have an effectual cure for this truly troublesome disease. M. J. P. Hazards, of 164 Second street, Cincinnati, Ohio, the celebrated tragedio to a female, on account of the extreme youth of the hair to the fatidone of Argus, so the victim of London sharpers, who is but eighteen years of age, when he comes home to spend his half-term and "see the world," may receive more interest at that time. Miss Hazards, in her present mode of life, has been accustomed to assume the character. The novelty of the effort, at all events, will be attractive. Miss P. will take her benefit to-morrow night, when the Post Band will appear.

THE CLARKSVILLE (Tenn.) GARRETT says the military authorities have given notice to the occupants of the following-named houses to vacate the same, preparatory to their being confiscated as the property of alien enemies and appropriated to military occupancy. Resident James J. Bailey, Franklin street, and B. Fleec, Franklin street, occupied by Mrs. King; residence of D. N. Kennedy, corner of Madison and Second streets, occupied by Mrs. Kennedy.

DRUGS.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

PLANTERS' HOTEL.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday. At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper. On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

MILITARY HOTEL.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday. At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper. On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

ARMY HIGH SCHOOL.—The Junior Exhibitor of this institution takes place to-night at the Chapel of the College building, corner of Ninth and Chestnut streets. The exercises will be held at half-past seven.

THE FALCHI.—One of the Mississippi Marine Brigade transports will arrive at this city to-morrow, with the 23d and 3d Indiana re-enlisted volunteers on board. The regiments have been serving with the Army of Tennessee, and are en route for home.

LET IT BE REMEMBERED.—That the City Councils meet in joint session this evening, for the purpose of electing an Assistant City Attorney, a City Engineer, and the required number of policemen.

GEORGE R. PATTON, grain dealer, has re-enlisted, and the men are on their way home, having been granted a thirty days furlough. Lieut.-Col. Wats is in command of the regiment.

PRODUCE COMMISSION MERCHANT.—No. 120 Broad st., bet. Main and Market st., Louisville, Ky.

NOTICES OF THE DAY.

NOTICES OF THE DAY.

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY.
NOTICE.—The largest and most complete stock of WHEELER & WILKINSON'S Sewing-Machines in PRESENCE to ANY OTHER, and the greatest variety of needles, pins, bobbins, and other articles, now on hand, and ready to be supplied, and the least liable to get out of order, it makes the celebrated "Lock," the only stitch that has ever been found to give satisfaction to all classes of people, and is sold at its full value in their sale-rooms. No. 1 Masonic Temple, are larger than all other sewing-machines combined. Now is the time to purchase them, as there are many more to be had, and they are selling immense numbers of them, and we understand that it is almost impossible to fill their orders. Call at our office for our recommendation, and make your selection. — 123 cordwood

PIECE-GOOD CURRENCY WILL BE EXCHANGED in this office for larger United States notes.

NOTICE.—Three nights ago the military authorities made a descent on the gambling-houses of our city, and somewhat astonished the light-fingered gamblers. The plan was well contrived, and detail of thirty men, divided in squads, each under command of a commissioned officer, were quietly stationed in different portions of the city, and, at a designated moment, they made a simultaneous attack upon the different gambling-houses. The proprietors of the various establishments had not the remotest idea that the military contemplated paying them a visit, and the gaming-tables of each were in full operation. The surprise was not soon discovered. The houses were closed, and the managers reported to the Provost Marshal. He called them to appear at his office the next morning. Yesterday, three cases were investigated, and the following-named individuals were ordered north of the Ohio river to remain during the war: S. G. Ladd, John H. Payne, Theodore Cameron, L. B. Torrence, W. H. Daniel, F. Feathers, Charles Conner, F. Riley, and A. W. C. Wadde. They are given forty-eight hours to comply with the order. At one of the houses, a notorious character was arrested, who is charged with being inside of the Federal lines a rebel spy. He is known to have served with General Longstreet as chief of scouts. He is now considered a traitor to the Union. The members of the swindling banditry, who are engaged in swindling practices by the gamblers upon officers and soldiers through the city prompted the military authorities to turn their attention to their houses, and sweep them from our city. It required vigilance and caution to detect the gamblers in their swindling operations. Ira E. Tuttle, who is winning a prond name, for daring, dash, and strategy, as chief of the scouts of the Army of the Cumberland, was ordered to the city, and it was mainly owing to his efforts, that the entry of Tuesday evening was successful.

We are authorized to state that the gaming-houses will not be permitted to re-open in the future, and the like establishments throughout the State, will be promptly closed by the military authorities.

OPERATIVE PREPARATIONS.—Manager Fulmer is determined that the best seats for hearing the opera shall be equally comfortable with those in the parquette circle.

The balcony boxes are preferable to the lower tier, because the sounds are more mellowed by the greater height.

The boxes are well-arranged accommodations for all next week. The Royal Box, the brilliant parterre of overhanging gardens. One place is about as good as another, after all, to hear an opera in a house of the size of our theatre, and the enthusiast will not care to be prominently seen if he or she can drink in the flood of melody which will gush from the voices of Lorini, Castri, Strakosch, Formes, Steffan, Tamero, Barilli, Morelli, and the rest of the troupe of l'Impresario Grau.

We are authorized to state that the gaming-houses will not be permitted to re-open in the future, and the like establishments throughout the State, will be promptly closed by the military authorities.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the West. Col. Macauley was born in Buffalo and is well known there.

NOTICE.—The 11th Indiana regiment, Col. Dan. Macauley, had a splendid reception in Buffalo, where they arrived at midnight on Saturday.

At the Arsenal, speeches were made and the regiment regaled with a supper.

On the next afternoon, Col. Macauley held a dress parade, after which the guests were furnished with a fine dinner. They then took the night train for the

[From the New York Times]
SOUTH AND CENTRAL AMERICA.

PANAMA, Monday, March 7, 1864.

The Golden Age, which arrived here from San Francisco this morning, brings us unusually good news. The English are at war with the United States, and both foreign and domestic passengers. The Age left five French war ships at Acapulco, Mexico, blockading that place and awaiting orders. The California and Pacific steamship is now bound for Panama, coming out of Acapulco by the French naval officers, and are not allowed to take or land freight passengers. The United States steamship is also bound for Panama, and where he is always sure to find a busy himself about.

We have nothing of note, locally. On Friday last we had a slight shock of an earthquake, which only rattled the crockery and made a few old ladies a little more nervous than usual.

Considerable interest is manifested here in regard to the proposed Congress of the Spanish-American States, which will my last. It was at first said the meeting would take place at Panama, but it may possibly be held at another. No time has yet been fixed, but all supposed arrangements will be completed by next March.

Two commissioners from President Mosquera are now in Panama, on their way to Venezuela, to represent the Government of the old Colombian Republic, or confederation of the three States which composed it. New Granada, Ecuador, and Venezuela.

The Spanish post has entirely disappeared from the cities of Panama and Aspinwall.

But little progress has been made in raising the 5,000 men called for from this State, for the army of the Republic. Enough has been sent, however, to fight the rebels in the interior, so that for fear of the consequences they do not bring us much produce, so that provisions are scarce and dear, and labor high. The rebels, on the part of course, at Bogota, great complaints are made of the dearness and scarcity of provisions and labor, resulting from the same cause.

The United States steamship Oregon and the British steamer Duttonian are at Panama, and the British frigate Challenger is at Aspinwall. It is reported that Senator Murillo, President elect of this Republic, will be sent to Panama, to Carthagena in a matter of days. In that case, it would be hoped she will drop into Aspinwall, where the United States flag on a naval vessel has not been seen for nearly a year.

Captain Connelly, of the U. S. M. F. S. (U.S. Mail), has been relieved at his own request, and will go to day to take a peep at New York, on his way home.

NEW YORK, MARCH 7.

The British mail steamer from Valparaiso and intermediate ports arrived at Panama yesterday. Her news, which is up to the 16th of February, show that the United States and the 22nd of Lima, Callao is unimpassioned. From Guyasayllar we have dates, via Paita, to 27th February. The Republic was perfectly quiet. Most of the soldiers raised to fight the rebels had returned to their homes, and plantations and trade have resumed their usual course.

Peru has offered mediation between Chile and Argentina on the Mexican question, and the British Minister of Foreign Affairs, Viscount Palmerston, has gone as Peruvian Minister to Chile. The Minister of Colombia to Peru, Don Justo Arosemena, has also gone. He is a son of a distinguished family, and a man of great talents. The cultivation of cotton in Peru is largely increasing.

Bolivia is quiet, and progressing in her mining, agriculture, and public works.

Chile is occupied with the coming elections for Congress. A much larger share than before of the liberal element will be interested in this new Congress, and the privacies of the priests will likely be curtailed.

Freights from Valparaiso to Europe, 316.50.

McNemar dates are to the 29th February.

Congress had approved the Morris contract, made late at Washington by Senior Molinari, Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

Senors Marcellino Gutierrez, Ramon Gomes, and Alfonso Cesarini, were appointed to be members of the supreme Council.

The House of Representatives named a committee to report resolutions relative to the war with Mexico.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

Senors Marcellino Gutierrez, Ramon Gomes, and Alfonso Cesarini, were appointed to be members of the supreme Council.

The House of Representatives named a committee to report resolutions relative to the war with Mexico.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

Senors Marcellino Gutierrez, Ramon Gomes, and Alfonso Cesarini, were appointed to be members of the supreme Council.

The House of Representatives named a committee to report resolutions relative to the war with Mexico.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.

We have dates from Bogota, the capital, to the 13th of February. The extra session of Congress was merged into the regular annual session on the 1st of February. The Senate, the President, the Protestant Senate, Francisco Javier, Senior Vice President, Senior Juan A. de la Espriella; Secretary, Senior Carlos Benedicto. Senior Antonio del Real was made President of the House of Representatives, and Senator Coello Vice-President.

On the 9th the Chambers in joint session elected Gen. Thomas C. Moqua to the place of President, between the 1st of April, 1864, and the 1st of January, 1865. His place shall become vacant by the absence or death of President Murillo; and in case of his absence between those dates, then Gen. Salgar or Gen. Nieto will fill the place.

The two Chambers then declared unanimously that Senior Manuel Murillo, now resident in Washington, was to be the President for two years from the 1st of April, 1864, having received the votes of the legislatures of the States of Antioquia, Choco, Magdalena, Panama, Santander, and Tolima. Senior Salazar received the votes of Bogota and Boyaca, and Gen. Ospina the State of Caucá.